

Region V Systems Grievances, Complaints, and Appeals Procedures

Region V Systems maintains a Corporate Compliance Program to address incidences of waste, fraud, abuse, and other questionable activities and practices as well as to address formal complaints from employees, persons served, Network Providers, and the community at large. This means that any person/entity has the right to file a complaint without fear of being harassed, fired or disciplined from an employer, retaliated against, or removed from services, or funding consequences as a result from action or behaviors by coworkers, peers, management, or Region V Systems' governance authority.

Procedures for Filing a Complaint/Appeal

The following definitions define when an individual/entity needs to file a formal complaint/appeal:

Grievance: Dissatisfaction by a person with some aspect of the operations, activities, services, or employee behavior at Region V Systems or by its Provider Network, but his/her grievance can be resolved at an informal level (this is considered a perceived concern).

NOTE: A grievance is not considered a complaint as the situation can be informally resolved without filing a written complaint.

Complaint: A formal written grievance by a person to express dissatisfaction with any aspect of the operations, activities, services, or employee behavior at Region V Systems or by its Network Provider for which such grievance cannot be resolved at an informal level.

NOTE: Generally, complaints about Network Providers must first be addressed by following the Network Provider's established protocol for written complaints.

Appeal: A formal request is made by a person/entity for review and reconsideration of the outcome of his/her/its formal written complaint when the person/entity is unhappy with the action taken to remediate the complaint.

NOTE: Appeals directed at the Network Provider must follow whatever appeal process is set up by the Network Provider.

Levels of Review Related to Complaint

A. Informal Basis

Grievances should be handled on an informal basis if possible. Persons who are dissatisfied with a decision or action should first attempt to work out the issue with the parties directly involved. This includes reporting the concern to a supervisor if employee related. If the grieving party does not know who to start the informal conversation with, he/she can call Region V Systems' Corporate Compliance Officer (402-441-4343) for assistance in whom to contact.

If a resolution to the concern cannot be agreed upon at an informal level, the person grieving the situation should continue with the steps as listed below.

B. Filing Formal Complaint

1. Complaints must be filed within 30 days following any action which is perceived to have violated the person's rights or situations that cause the person dissatisfaction under the "complaint definition" above.
2. Complaints must be submitted in writing by completing Region V Systems' "Complaint Report." A blank "Complaint Report" can be accessed by:

3. Region V Systems' Corporate Compliance Officer will provide the individual completing the "Complaint Report" with written confirmation that the "Complaint Report" was received.
4. The Corporate Compliance Officer will assess the "Complaint Report" to determine the appropriate initial steps to be taken to investigate the report as well as the timeliness needed to address it, using the following guidelines:
 - Briefing the Corporate Compliance Team, receiving directives as needed to address the concern/issue. Exceptions to this are:
 - If the report contains allegations involving the Regional Administrator, the Corporate Compliance Officer will work directly with the Regional Governing Board Executive Committee.
 - If the report contains allegations involving a personnel matter (other than the Regional Administrator), the Corporate Compliance Officer will initially work with the Regional Administrator.
5. Region V Systems' Corporate Compliance Team will determine the best course of action regarding the complaint (unless the incident falls under the exception rules stated above).
6. Once the complaint has been appropriately addressed by Region V Systems' Corporate Compliance Team, the Regional Administrator, or his/her designee, will provide a written response within five (5) business days to the individual who submitted the "Complaint Report." The response will include the specific action to be taken by Region V Systems regarding the complaint.
